The Mental Health Effects of a Mindfulness App in Parents of a Child With Medical Complexity

NCT05925868
The following informed consent is part of the electronic questionnaire that was approved by the Boise State University IRB.

Informed Consent

Principal Investigator: Dr. Cara Gallegos

You are invited to participate in a research study. This consent form will provide you the information you will need to understand why this study is being done and why you are being invited to participate. It will also describe what will be expected of you as a participant, as well as any known risks, inconveniences or discomforts that you may have while participating.

Purpose and Background
The purpose of this research is to determine whether the use of a mindfulness app improves mental health outcomes in parents of a child with medical complexity. You are being asked to participate because you are parent of a child with medical complexity.

Procedures
If you agree to be in this study, you will participate in the following:
1. Use the Headspace mindfulness app (will be gifted to you)
2. Use a mindfulness app for at least 10 min, 4 days a week.
3. Answer surveys once/week.

Risks
The survey will include a section requesting demographic information. Your answers to these questions may make an individual person identifiable. We will make every effort to maintain confidentiality. However, if you are uncomfortable answering any of these questions, you may leave them blank. Some of the survey and interview questions might make you feel uncomfortable or upset. You are always free to decline any question, take a break, or to stop your participation at any time. Should you feel discomfort after participating please contact your own health care provider or call the Idaho Care Line, 2-1-1 (a free statewide community information and referral service). Mental health resources are also included at the end of each survey.

Benefits/Compensation
The benefits of your participation in this study include receiving a $75 Amazon gift card upon completion of all survey questionnaires.

Extent of Confidentiality
Reasonable efforts will be made to keep the personal information in our research records private and confidential. Any identifiable information obtained in connection with this study will remain confidential and will be disclosed only with your permission or as required by law. The members of the research team and the Boise State University Office of Research Compliance (ORC) may access the data. The ORC monitors research studies to protect the rights and welfare of research participants.
Your name will not be used in any written reports or publications which result from this research.
and data will be kept for at least 3 years (per federal regulations) after the study is complete and then destroyed.
